The 10-week, limited-run installation invites guests to experience first-hand what makes Tiffany diamonds truly unique. Here's a sneak peek of the exhibition.

Diamond in the rough

Tiffany & Co. are leaders in diamond traceability

Tiffany & Co. is committed to responsible sourcing and how it is an industry leader in diamond traceability. You can find out the full craftsmanship journey of each individually-registered Tiffany diamond, including the region and country of origin.

Under the microscope

Did you know that Tiffany only accepts 0.04 per cent of the world's gem-grade diamonds. This installation will help you understand how Tiffany painstakingly identifies the best stones before they are cut, polished, graded, set and presented to the public.

Cut, cleaned and polished
